

Service Guarantee

Sharing your story and/or image is your decision. Family Promise of Spokane (FPS) will not offer additional resources or benefits to you for sharing your story or image. Likewise, if you choose not to share your story, you will not lose access to the resources and benefits you currently have through our programs, or be barred from future services in any way.

Why are we asking for your story/image?

- Your story matters, and is worthy of being told.
- It helps educate our audiences and increase their understanding of our work.
- It inspire audiences to support our work by donating money, volunteering, or advocating for our cause.

How will we use your story/image?

- We may share your story, your image, or parts of your story in multiple formats, including websites, videos, email, audio recordings, and social media, unless otherwise requested and agreed upon.
- We may or may not tell your full story/image.
- Additional context around your story/image may be added to enhance our audiences' understanding.
- We strive to represent your story and likeness authentically.

What are your rights?

- You have the right to define how FPS can use your story/image.
- You have the right to request an update to your story/image.
- You have the right to view variations of your story before publication, whenever possible.
- You have the right to change your mind at any time and revoke your consent. If you inform us, we will not use your story/image in future communications. Please understand that we may not be able to withdraw images and stories that have been previously distributed.
